Flying high with young aspirations

Aeromodelling enthusiasts were in for a treat in September when an open field at Bukit Batok was temporarily turned into a miniature airspace for drones and model aircraft. This event, attended by MP for Bukit Batok SMC Mr Murali Pillai as guest of honour, also marked the soft launch of Bukit Batok Community Club's aeromodelling club. More details on page 7.

MEET OUR DIGITAL MARKETING EXPERT

Dear Residents

Para penduduk sekalian
亲爱的居民们

Jurong-Clementi Town Council is the first town council in Singapore to install more than 2,300 Digital Notice Boards (DNBs) within the lifts or lift lobbies of HDB blocks, as well as at high human traffic areas throughout our town. We are very encouraged by the positive feedback from our residents. Many of you said that the DNBs provide timely, informative and interesting news in the community.

Following our success, the Housing and Development Board will install 6,000 new DNBs in other HDB estates in Year 2020. Thank you for your support.

Meanwhile, residents in Jurong Central may have noticed a new playground of a different kind – our first inclusive playground in the Jurong-Clementi Town.

This inclusive playground features two bright-coloured playsets comprising a sensory ramp with music elements, a twister slide, two other sectional slides, easy-access stairs, a high-backed swing and more. The playground is suitable for all children, including children with special needs. Colourful benches with attractive artwork have been installed in the vicinity to encourage families to spend time together in the same recreational space.

Lastly, I would like to thank our residents for their overwhelming support towards the recent #MyTownMyHome photo contest. Ten outstanding entries were shortlisted from over 300 submissions (see page 9 of this newsletter). The top three entries with the highest number of “likes” on Facebook and Instagram will be featured in our specially produced 2020 calendars. The calendars will be distributed to more than 83,000 households in our town.

裕廊金文泰镇议会是新加坡第一个在电梯、电梯间以及人流量大的区内公共场所安装数码告示板的市镇会。至今，我们已经装置了2,300多个告示板。居民的正面反馈令人鼓舞，许多居民告诉我们新一代的告示板提供了即时、详实和有趣的新闻。

我们成功之后，建屋局也将于明年在其他的组屋区安装6000个新的数码告示板。于此同时，裕廊中居民可能已经注意到了另一种不同类型的新游乐场；我们在裕廊-金文泰镇设立第一个包容性游乐场。

这个包容性游乐场色彩鲜艳，有音乐元素的溜滑梯、螺旋滑梯、高背秋千等。游乐场的设计也考虑到有特殊需要的儿童。游乐场附近我们也安装了色彩鲜艳的长椅，上面摆满了吸引人的艺术装置，以鼓励全家人共同使用，增进互动。

最后，我要感谢居民对最近结束的#MyTownMyHome摄影比赛所给予的大力支持。我们收到超过300份参赛作品。从中，我们选出了10个优秀作品。（请参看本期第9页）在脸书和Instagram上获得最多“赞”的前三作品，将登上我们精心设计的2020年月历。这个月历将送到8万3000户居民的家中。

【摘要】西南社区在国庆期间于裕廊东地铁站旁空地上举办的国庆嘉年华会得到广大民众的热烈回响。4万居民与访客从下午5点开始涌入参与盛会，其中包括古早游戏、展览和美食品尝等等。主办单位也呈现了精彩的文娱表演，这包括包括娘惹、华族和印族舞蹈以及马来鼓等多元文化表演。Too Much Drama乐队也呈现了一系列的爱国歌曲和新加坡的经典乐曲。

On 10 August, the National Day celebrations resumed in the Jurong heartland. At 5pm, 40,000 residents had gathered at the open field next to Jurong East MRT station to participate in activities such as old-school games and carnival rides, and partake in local delights such as chicken masala biryani, laksa and potong ice cream.

The crowd also enjoyed delightful entertainment on stage, including multicultural performances such as Nonya, Chinese and Indian dances, as well as Malay drum performances. Local multilingual band Too Much Drama belted out a series of National Day songs and local classic tunes.

For 40-year-old sales engineer Mr Yu Sian Fu, celebrating the nation’s birthday with fellow Singaporeans was especially memorable, as he and his family would usually travel overseas during the National Day period. “But this year is the bicentennial, so we decided to stay. It’s remarkable that we’ve managed to achieve so much and become a developed country in a short span of 54 years,” he said. “My daughter is looking forward to the fireworks display at the end of the event.”

Mr Putera Zulfika, 26, who came with his family of eight, was delighted at taking in the celebration close to his home. “This event allowed those of us who did not get to see the National Day Parade live at the Padang to have the same experience near our housing estate. There are also a lot of carnival activities for my kids to explore,” he said.

Hundreds of Singaporeans also lined the road as they waited eagerly for the arrival of the mobile column. Cheers were heard when the enormous battle tanks and the familiar red-and-white Singapore Civil Defence Force (SCDF) emergency vehicles started rolling in at 6.45pm.

Representing our defence strength through the Singapore Armed Forces, Singapore Police Force and SCDF, the mobile column first rolled down the Padang in 1969. This year also marks the 50th anniversary of the mobile column, which last made an appearance at the NDP in 2015.

【摘要】占地600公顷的裕廊创新区，将打造成为我国的先进制造业中心，运用自动化技术、人工智能及数据分析等尖端科技来进行生产，并创造9万5000个新的工作岗位。裕廊创新区代表着先进制造业与我国经济演进的下一阶段，整个园区将在20年内分阶段发展，第一期工程约在2022年完成。

The Jurong Innovation District (JID) Masterplan Exhibition marks a new chapter in the exciting evolution of the Jurong Lake District, Singapore's second business district. JID, as its name implies, will be a major driver of innovation. Besides serving as a new hub for advanced manufacturing, JID will spur research and development in agri-technology, urban mobility and the built environment. In entrepreneurship, JID will play an important role in supporting the growth of start-ups and fostering collaboration between innovators and entrepreneurs. Tertiary education institutions and industry players are expected to form partnerships to commercialise new technologies and products.

JID will be developed in phases over 20 years. "Once fully developed, we expect it to create 95,000 new jobs," said Mr Tharman Shanmugaratnam, Senior Minister and guest of honour at the launch of the JID Masterplan Exhibition at Westgate on 14 September.

With a strong emphasis on sustainability, JID will be more than an industrial estate. Set amidst greenery and biodiversity, JID will offer new facilities, parks and public spaces for both work and recreation.

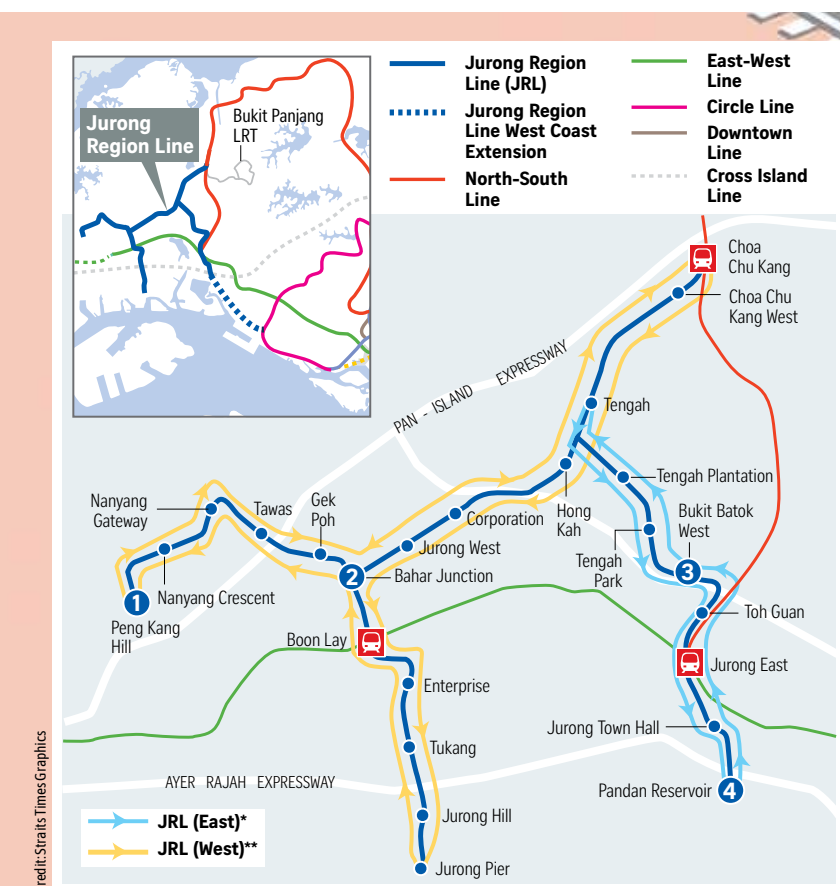

JID WILL INCLUDE:

- Innovations in agri-technology, urban mobility and the built environment: It will be linked to the existing facilities in the vicinity, providing lifestyle amenities for those working here as well as for neighbouring residents.
- Full of greenery: Almost 40% of JID are under green cover, biodiversity and a range of facilities.
- Car-lite development:

Singapore's first car-free sky corridor spans 11km and caters to pedestrians, cyclists and autonomous shuttles.

On 1 June, the Embracing Parenthood Movement Celebration moved to Bukit Batok East. Parents of babies born in 2017 and 2018 attended the three-hour celebration with their little ones. There, they learned about infant cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), engaged in a mass parent-baby bonding activity, and mingled with other parents from the neighbourhood. Madam Rahayu Mahzam, MP for Jurong GRC and mother of a two-year-old boy, was guest of honour. She presented participants with baby gift sets as the celebration ended on a high note.

The Embracing Parenthood Movement is a community-led initiative organised by the People's Association, Family Life Champions, and Grassroots Organisations, in partnership with the Ministry of Social and Family Development, and the National Population and Talent Division. The Embracing Parenthood Movement Celebrations, which are held all over Singapore, offer a platform for parents to receive experts' advice on infant care and child rearing, interact with other parents, and form support networks.

The Mid-Autumn Festival celebration, which was held at the Clementi Town Centre on 15 September, attracted more than 1000 residents of different races and generations.

This year, the Mid-Autumn Festival celebrations were held in six locations in the Jurong-Clementi neighbourhood so that residents would find it more convenient to join in the celebrations.

The celebration ran from 7.30pm till 9.30pm, and throughout the two hours, the flow of residents continued unabated. Residents were seen enjoying food, games and the festive atmosphere. In addition to a Chinese tea appreciation counter, there were games such as lantern riddles, guessing the weight of a pomelo, giant snakes-and-

A booth was put up to disseminate information about benefits for Merdeka Generation seniors.

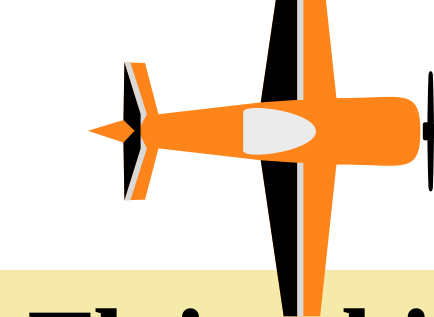

On stage, a singer gave a melodious rendition of the 1961 English oldie Moon River, and other crowd favourites. Mr Patrick Ng, a retiree, enjoyed the songs and said: "Many people went to a lot of trouble to put this mini-carnival together. It's for residents of this estate, so my wife and I decided to come to enjoy the experience."

Residents also tried their hand at mooncake-making. Mr Leon Lim, a teacher, has his own recipe for healthy mooncakes—by replacing shortening, which is 100 per cent fat, with olive oil. His parents who are diabetic, are unable to consume traditional mooncakes, so he modified the recipe.

A teenage resident, Stefanie, brought along her two Indian friends, Aveebah and Tanvi. The pals, who were primary school classmates, had turned up to join in the fun.

【摘要】今年国庆期间，裕廊集选区议员洪维能穿的两套极富新加坡特色的服装，出自于裕廊居民萨拜(May Sabai)的手。议员是在访问选区居民的时候，意外地发现了她的才华，于是请她制作有新加坡特色的衬衫。萨拜来自缅甸、和新加坡人结婚之后就在这里定居，现有两名女儿。她在家制作的壁画，使得居住环境充满绿意和清新的创意。

A love for cultivating orchids led to a passion for drawing them – an interest that has spanned some 20 years for Jurong West resident May Sabai.

Madam Sabai, 55, has turned her hobby into a full-fledged job, supplying hand-painted porcelain tableware featuring orchid motifs to the Singapore Botanic Gardens gift shop, among other work.

She came from Myanmar 30 years ago when her father was working here. She married a Singaporean in 1992 and they now have two daughters aged 25 and 18.

The family's Jurong West flat is a showcase for Madam Sabai's creativity, from a large-scale wall mural at her dining area, to a hand-painted fabric sofa, to ceramic vases lining a shelf.

It was her intricate wall painting of the Nat Ma Taung mountain in Myanmar that caught the eye of her MP Mr Ang Wei Neng during one of his home visits.

"Maybe he never expected to see big art in a small house, so he was surprised," she said.

A short chat led to her offering to paint orchid motifs on a shirt for him so that he could wear it for National Day.

She spent a week painting two shirts– one that he wore for the National Day Parade at the Padang; the other for the Southwest CDC National Day Carnival at Jurong East.

"I had to add the details layer by layer because I was painting on fabric. So it took longer," she said.

Mr Ang asked her to include three icons of Singapore – Sir Stamford Raffles, the Marina Bay flower dome, and the orchid named Aranda Lee Kuan Yew, for their significance in celebrating Singapore's Bicentennial.

Asked how she felt about Mr Ang wearing her creation, she said: "I feel very proud that he wanted to wear my painting. And even happier when I saw how much he liked it."

complaints about lift doors being jammed, so one of the videos will impart the dos and don'ts in handling such a situation.

Apart from handling Jurong-Clementi Town Council's Facebook and Instagram pages, Ms Ong also manages the Town Council's newsletter.

To help residents better understand the Town Council's work, Ms Ong commissions articles that profile the operations personnel on the ground such as the property officer who conducts physical inspections to ensure the estate is well-maintained.

No two days are the same for her as she works on a variety of tasks, including posting content on social media, planning the newsletter content, churning out monthly reports and managing ad-hoc projects.

While she feels that the current engagement numbers are encouraging, she is looking into more ways to reach out to residents and engage with them, both online and offline.

A typical day for Ms Ong starts at about 8.30am and ends at 5.30pm. But work does not end when she leaves the office because she attends to messages whenever she can, even after office hours.

Ms Ong gets the most satisfaction when she hears that the Town Council's communications have effectively reached residents. For example, residents have become more aware of community events and activities thanks to the Digital Notice Boards in the lifts.
